

FRENCH DIVIDE

The French Divide spirit

The organization wants to remind you that the French Divide is an endurance trail, a brevet that can be ridden by many types of bikes (mountain bike, cyclo-cross, gravel bike). It is a long-distance challenging trip, a personal challenge.

The french law is strict: the FRENCH DIVIDE IS NOT A RACE.

In order to avoid asking for impossible authorizations for such a long distance:

- the French Divide is a brevet (a cycling adventure with no assistance) for the members of its organization,
- each participant has to sign a membership to Lille VTT, the official organizer,
- the signatory becomes a member of Lille VTT until 12.31.2023,
- the 10€ subscription fees are included in the registration fees,
- the French Divide is limited to 100 participants,
- no ranking will be published.

Respect the french traffic laws

Cyclists riding on open roads must respect the french traffic laws and any local regulations in regions and municipalities they ride across.

Notifications and security

Cyclists must:

- notify themselves cordially before passing other users on the road (hikers for instance),
- pass with care any pedestrian or equestrian hiker that always has priority,
- ride without endangering their own safety or from any other road user,
- be polite to other road users and stay discreet,
- do not take useless risks.

Environment

We ask all the participants to respect the environment of all the areas and their surroundings that they will pass during the French Divide.

- It is strictly forbidden to dump any of your trash in nature.
- The participants will be held responsible for any degradation and may receive penalties.
- It concerns the comfort of all and the reputation of the cycling community.
- Respect nature and private properties.

More info here:

<https://www.lecampingsauvage.fr/legislation-et-reglementation/camping-sauvage-bivouac>

- Wild camping and bivouac are forbidden in the “parc naturel régional de la Forêt d'Orient”. (Section 6 - De Vitry-le-François à Bar-sur-Seine)
- Parc naturel régional des Volcans d'Auvergne : do not bivouac on the hills or the top of the volcanos.

Track and checkpoints

After leaving the departure location, the participants must follow the track shared by the organization and ride through all the towns on the French Divide route. They must also validate their road book at the defined checkpoints. The last checkpoint will be at the finish.

- The checkpoints can be validated at any time of day and night. The opening hours of the checkpoints only match the organizers' presence on site.
- You can validate a checkpoint with a photo, a credit card bill, a regular bill.
- Secret checkpoints may be set up during the event without prior notice.
- Regarding the nature of this adventure, none of the volunteers at the checkpoints is allowed to give you any assistance.
- Find the detailed checkpoints and their opening hours in appendix 2.

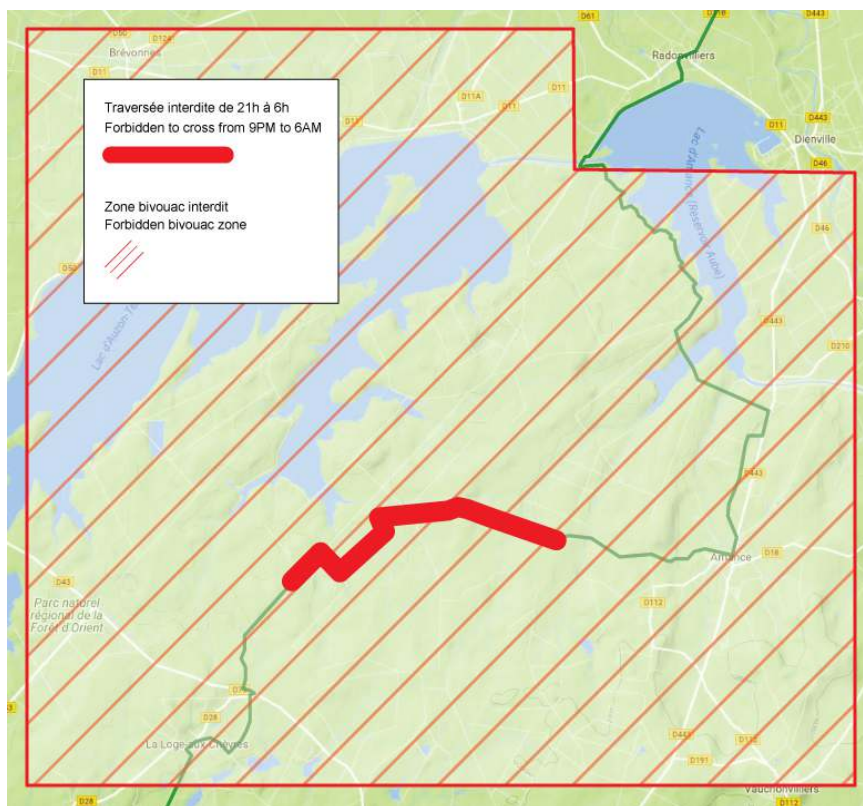

Here is the procedure to adopt when arriving at a checkpoint :

- a) If the FD team or a volunteer is there you must show your roadbook to make it stamp with the date and time.
- b) Outside of opening hours and with no presence of FD team members or volunteers, you must ask a restaurant owner or a store owner near you to stamp your brevet or give you a proof like a credit card bill, or regular bill to show us later.
- c) If you arrive at night and the checkpoint is closed, mark your name, date and time of arrival on a board we will leave there for that purpose. We will validate your visit later on.

You can leave the track but you must come back to it at the same place you left it.

Important info about the trace:

- 1) At St Jean Pied-de-Port on the GPS point (Lat 43.16 / long 1.238) starting the Porte d'Espagne, the city is 100% pedestrian so you have to get down your bike from 11:30 AM to 6:30 PM.
- 2) The Forêt d'Orient after Amance (Lat 48.295 / long 4.500) and after the Orient lake: it is forbidden to cross the forest at night from 9PM to 6AM. The rider and the organization will get a fee. So anybody passing at that time will be disqualified. Here is the forbidden zone from 9PM to 6 AM (Section 6 - De Vitry-le-François à Bar-sur-Seine)

Note : Wild camp and bivouac are forbidden in the parc naturel régional de la Forêt d'Orient. We advise you to camp around the city of Randonvilliers located 12km before the forbidden zone. Here's the cycling route in Randonvilliers as a reference.

Autonomy

The French Divide is a self-supported adventure starting with food and beverages. They must be taken from the start or bought in shops or restaurants on the way. Each cyclist also needs to be equipped to face any weather conditions or incident (flats, chain breaking, falls, etc.).

Each participant must be INDEPENDENT regarding:

- his/her bike, it's good condition for an endurance use on and off road, for maintenance and protection (included theft), before, during and at the finish of the adventure.
- his/her food and drinks supplies before, during and at the finish of the adventure.
- his/her route management, progression, sleep and safety.

Regarding food supplies, make sure to keep them at a good level. Indeed, on Sundays and Holidays (august 15th is a holiday in France) many shops are closed.

Can I send a package on the way to friends/family or leave it in a french post office?

No. And if you do live next to the trace, it is obvious that you can't pass by your home after the start of the event. Sending a package and leaving it at a french post office is also forbidden because it would disadvantage non-french people.

Can I send a package at the finish location?

Yes, but we don't handle the logistics.

Can I find free shelter and food - in a family house/ friends or people I meet on the way?

Yes, you can accept shelter and food as long as you did not know these people before the start of the event.

Can I go to a hotel/hostel/lodge? And with a reservation?

Hotels/hostels/lodges are authorized as they are shops and accommodations you will find on the way. Any booking before the start of the event is forbidden. Once the French Divide started you can book on the way in any accommodation you want.

What do I do if I pass a stray dog?

You can try to sprint to lose it or get down from your bike and use it as a shield.

And what if I get bitten by that dog?

You are 100% autonomous so we won't come and rescue you. In case of a stray dog, try to find the owner to verify the rabies certificate of the animal. In any case get your wound healed by a medical person.

And besides dogs are they any dangerous animals in France?

Be careful not to bivouac on boars/wild pigs paths. In the forest beware the ticks that might give you Lyme diseases. Ticks do suck out the blood and need special care to be removed from your skin. There are also vipers but I personally only saw one once and it was running away.

Where can I get water?

The french law requires a sign that says "non potable" (meaning not drinkable) on any water source where water is not drinkable. So if there is no sign, you can drink it. You can easily find water in any cemetery.

No assistance vehicles

They are FORBIDDEN.

You can't ask for help on social media either.

And you can't ask for other participant's help!

Material exchange

The only help allowed between participants is a moral help. A water bottle or a tyre patch for instance can't be exchanged.

Peloton

Because you will be a packed group of cyclists at the start, peloton will be hard to avoid, so it will be allowed until the Cassel climb (23% slope) After that, peloton will be forbidden. Drafting is prohibited as well.

Physical difficulty

- Control your speed in any circumstances.
- Adapt your daily mileage in accordance with your physical capabilities.

- Any participant who meets or passes another french divider in physical difficulty or in a serious accident/injury must help him.
- Emergency number: 112

100% bike

The totality of the route between the town of departure to the finish must be ridden on a bike, with the strength of your legs, heart and mindset. The use of a car, bus, train, ship, private jet or any other transportation is forbidden.

Brevet Card

We will give you a road book before the start of the adventure. You must keep it with you at all times. You must show it personally at each checkpoint (official or secret CP). The loss of your brevet card or a missing checkpoint stamp will lead to the cancellation of your participation and brevet.

The road book measures 10x10.5 cm. You can easily slide it in your passport.

A checkbox will be added to the brevet card: self-supported approved This box will be checked if you have complied with all of the rules. If you have not respected one of the rules, it will be up to you to tell us, on the principle of the "gentleman racer" We are not here to police.

Tracker

We are using SPOT trackers.

We will deliver you one (1) tracker with four (4) new AAA Lithium batteries. But these batteries have a 8-day lifetime max. So think of having 4 spare LITHIUM batteries or to find some on the way.

Yes Lithium batteries are much more expensive but they last 4 times longer.

Delivery:

- We will give you a tracker after the checking of mandatory documents and equipment.
- There is a 150 EUROS deposit for each tracker. (to pay cash)
- Your deposit check will not be cashed and we will give it back to you when we receive the tracker back.
- For all non-french participants we require cash for the deposit or a bank transfer (before august 1st).

Follow up:

- All participants must keep their tracker during the whole adventure.
- There will be a webpage to follow all the trackers at once and each participant will also have his/her own tracker page to share with friends and family.

- Your friends and family will probably look at your tracker signal closely so tell them not to worry if they don't see any movement for some time. It happens that trackers lose their signal on some parts of the track or they sometimes have battery issues.
- The loss of the SPOT tracker will lead to the cancellation of your participation and brevet.
- We will send you a link for you to fill in your info for the Mapprogress profile.

Return and deposit:

- Your tracker must be returned to the French Divide organization at the finish checkpoint.
- In case of withdrawal, or if you arrive after the closing of the finish checkpoint, you must return the tracker, at your charge, to the organization before august 23th, 2022 to the following address : BECUWE Samuel 62 rue Massena, 59493 Villeneuve d'ascq, FRANCE
- You will be charged 20 euros/day. (off your deposit)
- If you scratch early do not send it back before august 18th as we won't be able to collect it at the post office before august 24th. Otherwise it will come back your way.

Validation

The French Divide is not a race but a brevet. There will be no rankings publication.

In order to validate the French Divide Brevet, the organization might ask the participants for their GPS files of the entire trace. Files will be tested on Strava, on private segments, and will not be published.

Approval - Withdrawal

- Any participant who withdraws from the French Divide must notify the organization as soon as possible.
- If after 48h we notice that your position does not change and if we don't have any news from you (or via your family/friends) your participation will be canceled.
- If a participant leaves the trace to arrive faster at the finish, his entry will be canceled. He/she must then notify the organization about his/her mileage. The participant will not be able to validate future checkpoints.
- If a participant arrives at a checkpoint outside opening hours we will ask for a proof of presence (credit card bill, regular bill, photo, etc.)
- In case of withdrawal, or if you arrive after the closing of the finish checkpoint, you must return the tracker, at your charge, to the organization before august 23th 2022 to the following address : BECUWE Samuel 62 rue Massena, 59493 Villeneuve d'ascq. FRANCE
- In case of withdrawal contact Samuel Becuwe at +33(0)7 69 92 07 80

If you withdraw but still want to join us at the finish:

Let us know about your decision, where you left the trace and come join us on your own.

Once you declare your withdrawal, you won't be part of the event anymore. Your tracker will stay active but the color on the tracking website will change.

Penalty - Complaints

The organizers have the right to refuse a registration to the French Divide and to disqualify a participant in case of serious misconduct.

A single violation will not allow you to validate the box on your brevet card: self-supported approved

Violations of rules will be penalized according to the scale below:

Violations	Penalties
Passing/crossing of a hiker in a dangerous way	1 h
Lack of lighting, or not enough visibility	1 h
Non-respect of french highway code - phoning while riding	1 h
Drafting	1 h
Non-respect of the environment	DNL
Missing or hiding of a high-visibility apparel	2 h

Detour to avoid a path (penalty by km)	1 h

- Insofar as possible, we will notify the participant of his penalties along the way and mention it on his road book. Penalties will be applied on the total riding time.
- In case of new violations, penalties will add up.
- No stop due to penalties will be asked during the event.
- You are under your own responsibility.
